"I will give thanks"

By: Charlotte Fawver

The Amp. Bible says in Phil. 4:6&7, "Do not fret or have any anxiety about anything, but in every circumstance and in everything, by prayer and petition (definite requests), with thanksgiving, continue to make your wants known to God. And God's peace [shall be yours, that tranquil state of a soul assured of its salvation through Christ, and so fearing nothing from God and being content with its earthly lot of whatever sort that is, that peace] which transcends all understanding shall garrison and mount guard over your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus."

Chris, our oldest son, was around four years of age.

He was growing like a little weed and because of that, no longer did the length of his pants reach his shoes. You get the picture, don't you? We use to call this "highwaters." We didn't have the money to buy pants, so I began to pray about this need. I knew God said in His Word that He would meet our needs (Phil. 4:19). I also knew that He told us to ask in the name of Jesus (Jn. 16:23), and then believe that we receive (Mk. 11:24). If we truly believe that we receive, thanksgiving comes easy.

I asked the Father for pants for Chris and believed that I received. I thanked God for the pants every day. In the mean time, a family member said, "Don't you think it's time you bought that boy some pants?" My heart broke inside. So, why did I not have the peace that verse seven talks about? ... Because I did not have the confidence that what God said in His Word He would do. I kept thanking God for the pants.

Now, in the meantime, his sister's pants were too short, too. That was easy. I took lace and sowed around the hem. She was the most stylish little girl around. ... but what about Chris? I kept on thanking God for pants when I heard the Lord speak to me. "Charlotte, get that blue dress out of your closet and give it to Susie." I knew which dress and which Susie that the Lord was talking to me about. She was a girl in our church that was a few months pregnant. The blue dress would be perfect for her stage of pregnancy because it was the empire style. The only problem with this picture was that I loved that dress. I was asking for pants and now God tells me to give my blue dress away. Well, I obeyed. I placed the dress in a bag. I found Susie the next Sunday at church and gave her my blue dress. Susie was so happy. I thought, "No wonder, the dress is beautiful."

Susie and I continued to talk, and a lady walked up and tapped me on the shoulder. She whispered, "When you get through, I have something in the car for you." I soon made my way to her car. She pulled out two large trash bags out of the trunk. She said that she thought I might be able to use the items.

I love to receive surprises. As soon as I got home, I took Bag 1 and dumped out a pile of pants for Chris, just the size that he needed. I laughed and cried at the same time. I kept declaring my thanks to Jesus. I turned the next bag upside down, and there were more pants for Chris that were one size larger. God dressed Chris with these pants for two years.

Our Lord is so faithful to His Word. We must be faithful to do His Word, too. He truly meets our needs. Thank you, Jesus!

Rays of Light

A dear lady in our church began to have pain in her joints in 1998. The pain intensified, and she suffered muscle weakness and dizziness. She deteriorated to the point of needing a wheelchair. Her mom had to feed, dress, and bathe her. I watched this woman suffer excruciating pain and then suffer a stroke in 2004. She received much prayer, love, and care; but the greatest care that I saw given to her was the confessions of her mom over her everyday and all daylong. I would watch her hold her hand and say, "You are healed in Jesus' name." "This will be over soon." "You will be married someday and have children." Her faith was amazing even when death stared into our faces. On September 28 of this year, this young woman was listening to the song "Great is Thy Faithfulness." She began to worship the Lord and realized for the first time in years, her arms were over her head. The Lord told her to get up and dance before Him. She obeyed, and all of the pain left her. Oh, what a mighty God we serve.
